

Four Real Estate Leaders Honored By Brooklyn Nonprofit

Four leaders of Brooklyn's real estate community were presented with Brooklyn CareWorks' Judge Robert J. Wilkin Commitment to Community Award at the nonprofit agency's recent gala.

Receiving the award, which is named after the agency's founder, were: Timothy D. King, senior partner, Brooklyn Office of Massey Knakal Realty Services; Brian T. Leary, managing partner, the Brooklyn Office of Massey Knakal Realty Services; Elan Padeh CEO, president, and founder of The Developers Group; and S. David Behin, Esq., executive vice president of business development and general counsel for The Developers Group.

Dr. Pamela Straker, president and CEO, praised the honorees for their commitment to Brooklyn's renaissance and also announced that the agency had changed its name to Brooklyn CareWorks from Brooklyn Psychiatric Centers.

Each year, thousands of children, adults, seniors, and their families receive the help they need during more than 60,000 visits to Brooklyn CareWorks five community-based clinics in Williamsburg-Greenpoint, Bushwick, Canarsie, Flatbush-Sheepshead Bay, and downtown, on-site programs in the public schools, an outpatient drug and alcohol treatment program, a prevention program serving at-risk children and their families, and senior programs.
